INVITATION TO EXHIBITORS

The 9th Underwater Acoustics Conference & Exhibition (UACE 2027)

Volos, Greece
27 June -2 July 2027

The conference and exhibition is organized in co-operation with CCBS Greece

Dear Sir/Madam

The Underwater Acoustics Conference and Exhibition (UACE) series is considered as a world's leading event in underwater acoustics. The UACE 2027 to be held in Volos, Greece 27 June – 2 July 2027, will follow the tradition of previous events and is expected to attract leading international scientists working in theoretical and experimental issues of underwater acoustics.

The conference will comprise a prominent series of structured and regular oral sessions with invited and contributed papers given by leading international scientists. The structured sessions will be organized by key persons actively engaged at the forefront of research in underwater acoustics

An exhibition by leading international manufacturers of state-of-the-art technologies, equipment and services for underwater acoustic measurements, surveys and control of underwater processes will form an integrated part of the conference and will be arranged in the most central area of the conference space. Since the conference participants include several senior decision makers in exploitation of underwater acoustics as well as top scientists in this area, the exhibition forms a very important opportunity for hardware and software manufacturers and for providers of consulting and scientific services to meet with their customers during the exhibition. Like the conference, the exhibition will focus on an audience representing the civil, commercial and the military sectors involved with all aspects of underwater acoustic measurements and technologies.

The exhibitors will have the chance to present their products/services during an extra parallel session devoted to the sponsors and exhibitors, outside the scientific program of the conference.

It is a great pleasure for me, on behalf of the Organizing Committee, to invite your company to exhibit your products or services at the conference.

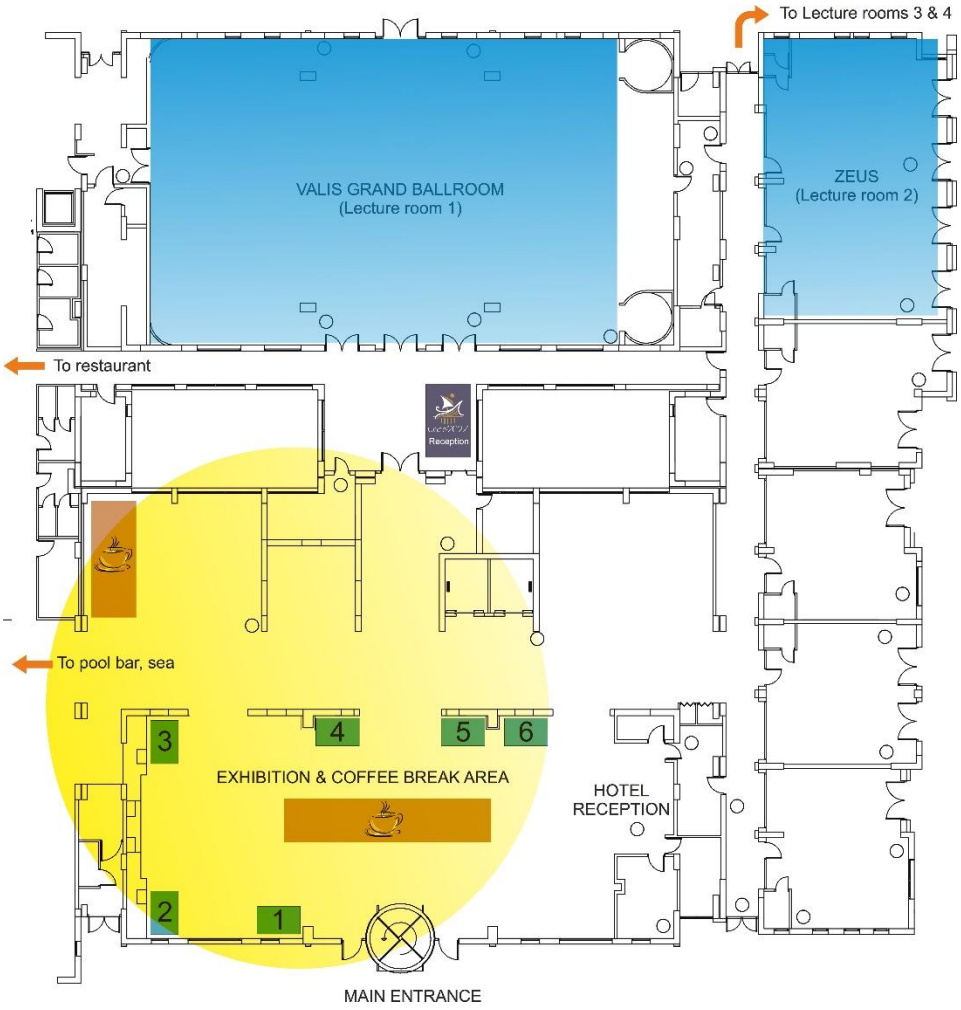

Looking very much forward to meeting you in Volos in June 2027.

On behalf of the Organizing Committee

Prof. Emer. Michael Taroudakis

Chairman
